

ABOUT

SFJC...

No one deserves to be abused!

The Solano Family Justice Center (SFJC) is a place where victims and survivors of family violence can get assistance from many different agencies located under one roof.

We are here to offer help and hope for victims and survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, child abuse, and elder and dependent adult abuse. We can provide assistance with filling out restraining order applications, go with you to support you during your court appearance and help you to access other needed services.

The Solano Family Justice Center's diverse and professional staff are here to ensure you receive services in a safe, secure place designed to provide you the help you need to break the cycle of violence.

Our goal is to offer victims and survivors the opportunity to build hope and new futures free from violence.
