Who is eligible for a CHDP Exam?

- Low income children birth to 19 years
- Children with Medi-Cal birth to 21 years

Proof of residency and income is not required.

Babies, children and teens should have regular health exams —
even if they are not sick.

CHDP exams can:

- Help keep children healthy
- Identify medical and dental problems early

All CHDP exams include:

- Growth and development check
- Immunizations (shots)
- Teeth and gum check
- Hearing and vision test
- Nutrition check
- Tests for anemia, lead, and others
- Health education

Children should have a CHDP exam during all of these age ranges:

Babies	Toddlers	Children	Teens
Under 1 month	13-15 months	4-5 years	13-16 years
1-2 months	16-23 months	6-8 years	17-20 years
3-4 months	2 years	9-12 years
5-6 months	3 years
7-9 months
10-12 months

Children can also get a CHDP exam for:

- School entry
- Sports/camp
- Foster care

Dental Care

If a dental problem is found at a CHDP exam, the cost of treatment may be paid.

The CHDP Gateway

The CHDP Gateway is a way to help children get health insurance. Uninsured children can get their CHDP exam and may be enrolled into temporary Medi-Cal.

This health insurance coverage is only temporary. A parent or guardian must complete a Medi-Cal application to continue this health insurance coverage.

Please call us if you:
